Believe Prospect Girl Abduction Victim

Trail of Mystery Auto Sought in Hunt for Roxie Green.

By W. T. BUCHANAN
Marion Star City Editor

S[illegible]ch for a model A Ford automobile was being [illegible] today as the most likely clue to the disappearance [illegible] Ann Green, 16-year-old Prospect High school girl [illegible] been missing since about dusk Friday night.

[illegible] LeRoy Retterer and Deputy Edgar Fink today [illegible] checking several leads but at noon reported no new [illegible]ments.

The girl was last seen shortly after she left Prospect [illegible] 6:45 p. m. Friday night to walk to the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Carl E Green, who live on the Lauer [illegible] east of Prospect.

The Lauer road runs north from route 47, the Prospect-Va[illegible] road, It intersects route 47 about three miles east of Prospect and the Green home is a farm house seven-[illegible] of a mile north of the intersection.

Investigation by officers from the sheriff's department traced the girl to within three-tenths of a mile of the [illegible] She was seen at this [illegible] Mrs Bertha Hetzer of [illegible] who was sitting on the [illegible] of her home when [illegible] passed The Hetzer residence [illegible] not more than 25 feet [illegible] highway and Mrs Hetzer [illegible] clear view of the girl [illegible] the girl appeared to be [illegible] The time was placed [illegible] Hetzer at about 7 o'clock [illegible] investigators consider it was [illegible] this, since the girl [illegible] have walked the nearly [illegible] from Prospect in 15 [illegible]

[illegible] chance that Roxie might [illegible] with foul play, a searching [illegible] covered the farm area [illegible] Green home Sunday afternoon. Other searchers, including [illegible] from the sheriff's office, [illegible] highways in the area [illegible] was found

The searching party was estimated to have consisted of from [illegible]0 men from Prospect and [illegible] surrounding community. The [illegible] was organized by Dale [illegible] and Clarence Laucher, [illegible] Prospect

Time Definitely Set

Sparks and his daughter Norma were the last persons to see the girl before she started to walk home Her trip home would take her entirely through town and eastward on route 47 toward [illegible]

Investigators can only speculate [illegible] what happened after the [illegible] was last seen by Mrs. Hetzer [illegible] is considered likely. however, [illegible] she entered an automobile [illegible] afterward

Finding of her left shoe, a small [illegible] and a hair ribbon at [illegible] way to the Green home [illegible] where she was last [illegible] only a baffling clue to [illegible]

Called An Abduction

Deputy Fink said last night his investigation up to that point convinced [illegible] the girl did not leave [illegible] He expressed the [illegible] that if she entered an [illegible] it was because she [illegible] driver. He said he considered [illegible] case of abduction

[illegible] A Ford angle had [illegible] in the investigation at [illegible] Several persons living [illegible] route 47 report seeing [illegible] traveling back and [illegible] the highway about the [illegible] walked over that section [illegible] road

[illegible] dusk a similar car was [illegible] around in a driveway [illegible] 300 yards north of the [illegible] The car had been [illegible] north on the Lauer road [illegible] Green home. It turned [illegible] into the driveway to [illegible] Anderson home. then [illegible] south again.

[illegible] Mr and Mrs. Anderson [illegible] son Robert, 10. saw the [illegible] could see no one in it [illegible] driver, they said.

[illegible] who was in the side [illegible] the car went south [illegible] at the driveway into [illegible] home. This drive is [illegible] feet from the Green [illegible] the view is partially [illegible] a large apple tree.

[illegible] Anderson, however, said [illegible] and that he heard [illegible] It was fairly [illegible] time.

[illegible] Green, 14, brother of [illegible] as outside the house at [illegible] and reported seeing the [illegible]

[illegible] got out and walked [illegible] the car(this would be to [illegible] facing Donald) and [illegible] be throwing something [illegible] the machine." By this [illegible] had approached within [illegible] feet of the machine. "I [illegible] if there was anything, but he got back in [illegible] without answering." The car then was driven south toward route 47.

The Andersons and Donald all said they saw no one in the car but the driver

It was at the point where the car stopped that Sheriff Retterer and the girl's father later found the shoe, the purse and hair ribbon This discovery was made after 11 o'clock after the father, alarmed at the girl's failure to return, notified officers

Mrs Anderson said they didn't think much about the car turning since they believed it possibly was someone bringing Roxie home from Prospect.

Another tip that would point to the possibility that the girl entered an automobile after she was seen by Mrs Hetzer was given by George T. Doddrill, who lives about 300 feet east of the Hetzer home. Mr Doddrill reported hearing a woman's voice scream "Let me out' Let me out'' as a car passed his home. Because of the darkness he was unable to identify passengers in the car.

Parents Arrive Late

The sheriff's office was not notified of Roxie's absence from home until 11 p. m. because Mr. and Mrs Green did not return home until 10 p. m. Mr Green is employed by the C. and O. railroad near Toledo and Mrs. Green had gone there Friday morning to meet him. They returned by train, reaching Marion at 9:23 p. m

When they arrived home at 10 o'clock they were told by the other children that Roxie had not come home Thinking she still was in Prospect they drove there but could find no trace of the girl

Then, thoroughly alarmed. they notified the sheriff's office

Mr. Green said this morning he was convinced Roxie would not get in a car with a stranger. This belief was at least partially substantiated by Deputy Fink, who said he learned that Roxie had been seen to decline a ride as she walked along route 47

Mr. Green said he had often talked to the children about this matter and had warned them never to accept rides with strangers.

Missed Ride Home

Roxie's walk from Prospect to her home appears to have been brought about by a flat tire on the school bus that took a group of Prospect pupils to Chesterville Friday afternoon for a football game. Because the bus, driven by Charles Almendinger Jr., did not return until shortly after 6:30 p. m. Roxie missed a pre-arranged ride home

The father said this morning she was supposed to be home by 6 p. m. He speculated that she became worried when the ride was not available and started to walk the four miles home.

When the school bus pulled into the Prospect school grounds, about the center of town, Roxie and her friend Norma Sparks walked eastward to the Sparks service station, which is along the Scioto river in the northwest section of town.

Sparks said he saw the girls approaching and he noted the time was 6:45 p. m Before crossing the street he said Roxie turned and

TRUMAN HEARS REPORT ON AID

Confers with Marshall on Calling Special Session of Congress.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 — President Truman today carried a "show me' attitude toward a special session of congress into a critical conference with Secretary of State Marshall on the world's political and economic troubles

Whichever way they go, the policy decisions to be reached now or after additional study will affect the American pocketbook and the stomachs of hungry Europeans

Linked tightly to the issue of high prices at home, these are the biggest questions at the moment:

How soon and how much will the United States have to help Europe"

Will congress have to be summoned to a hurry-up session to approve additional aid?

Other Problems

But as the President and Secretary of state searched for the right answers, other international problems completed for a share of their attention

The United Nations' general assembly session in New York and the spectacular airing there of Soviet-American differences; conditions in China, Korea, Italy, France. Britain. Trieste, Greece an elsewhere Some of these have changed materially since Mr. Truman and Marshall last saw one another last month.

Marshall flew down last night from New York, where he heads the United States delegation at the assembly meeting. His conference with the President today was sandwiched between two others with the cabinet commit-

M'MILLEN FEED CO, SEEKS STRIKE END

Appeal Made in Statement Advertised Today.

A statement in which an appeal is made to the public and responsible laboring men and women of the community to cooperate in an effort to effect a settlement of a strike at the Marion plant of the McMillen Feed Co. is being issued by the company in The Star's advertising section today. Representatives of the company ask that the public as well as the employes read the advertisement and express their views to them.

Picketing was resumed at the plant this morning and office workers and other non-union employes who have been carrying on their work during the strike were refused admittance. The plant manager. auditor and personnel director were the only persons admitted by the picketers today

Approximately 20 men were in the picket line when the plant opened this morning but the number had dwindled to eight or ten around noon. The plant was picketed for approximately 10 days following a walkout of some 85 men on Aug. 21.

The plant has never been closed down, William Charle, plant manager, stated today, and operation will be resumed whenever the men desire to return to work

The strike involves the question of the legality of a contract between the company and union

RUSSIA TOLD ACTS ENDANGER WORLD PEACE

Britain Warns Soviets Present Policies Can Lead Only to War.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept 22—Britain warned today that if the Soviet Union persisted in trying to force its own will upon the world "the unstable peace of the world will crumble and crash' with "hideous consequences"

British Minister of State Hector McNeil delivered this warning before the United Nations assembly in a 6,600-word basic policy statement for the United Kingdom

He vigorously attacked Russia and at the same time appealed to Moscow to drop what he called its inflexible and unyielding attitude on world problems

McNeil ridiculed the charges of Russia's Andrei Y Vishinsky that there is 'war-mongering" in the United States. McNeil called Vishinsky's attack "a comedy piece."

Denies Charge

He then denied Vishinsky's charges that the Marshall plan for economic aid to Europe threatened the sovereignty of any country, and accused Russia of obstructing atomic control and paralyzing the security council by her 20 vetoes

McNeil's long speech ranged over the whole field of international affairs but its central theme was Russia's uncompromising attitude and the potential "crumble and crash"

"No nation has a monopoly of truth," he asserted "No nation is omniscient x x x No reasonable nation can expect at all times to

Boy Drowns In Edison Creek

Body of Barry Van Atta, 5, Found by Searching Party.

Special to The Star

EDISON, Sept 22—A 5-year-old Edison boy drowned here Saturday afternoon.

Searchers found the body of Barry Trussell Van Atta, son of Don and Lonie Trussell Van Atta of Edison, in Whetstone creek at 4 30 p m. after he had been missed from home.

Neal Wright and Richard Datz, Mt. Gilead High school students in a searching party of about 20 men, found the boy's body in a swimming hole on the Thomas farm south of the Edison school house.

Dr. Frank Sweeney, Mt Gilead coroner, estimated that the boy had entered the water at about 1:15 p. m. The boy, who was playing alone, could not swim.

He failed to return home for lunch Saturday noon, his parents called the sheriff at about 2 p m. A search was begun immediately.

His scooter and clothing were found on the bank of the creek by members of the searching party, who then began to drag the swimming hole.

He was last seen at the Edison Hardware store at 1 p. m.

Two Marion firemen, called to join the search, tried to revive the boy by artificial respiration for about 45 minutes.

The boy was born May 14, 1942, in Galion hospital. He is survived by his parents, two brothers, Colvy and Leon, three grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Trussell of Little Rock, Miss., and Mrs. Myrtle Van Atta of Edison, and two great grandparents, Mrs Addie Truex of Mt. Gilead, and Mrs. J. G. Snowden of Mississippi.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. today at the Little White church in Edison, with Rev. Orland Ruby officiating. Burial will be in River Cliff cemetery. Mt. Gilead.

Marion firemen Jack Ganoe and Charles McDonough located the boy's body with grappling hooks, and the two high school boys went in after the body.

3,000 Attend Cong. Smith's District G. O. P. Barbecue

A capacity crowd of over 3,000 attended a Republican rally of the Eighth congressional district at an old fashioned pit beef and ham barbecue given by Congressman Frederick C. Smith at Garfield park Saturday afternoon.

Termed by local and state political observers as the largest political gathering in Marion since the election of President Harding the district Republicans met under ideal weather conditions to consume 850 pounds of beef and ham, 10 gallons of baked beans, 125 gallons of ice cream, two barrels of coffee and iced tea, in addition to potato chips, pickles, cookies and gallons of mustard and catsup

The only speech of the afternoon was a short address by Governor Thomas Herbert, in which he reviewed the highlights of the past year in his administration as head of the state government.

The program went off as scheduled and as previously announced by Congressman Smith that the barbecue would be "long on eats and short on speeches" the governor made the only speech even though many state and district notables, including Lt Governor Paul Herbert, Attorney General Hugh Jenkins, Roger Tracy State Senator David Liggitt, Judge Guy Findley of Elyria, Judges Jackson and Middleton of the appeals court, and Major Edward Fogo, state registrar of motor vehicles, were present.

Glee Club on Program

The Ohio Republican Male Glee club of 50 opened the 30-minute program with the Star Spangled Banner and sang two other numbers, after which they sang informally at times during the afternoon

The registration booth showed large delegations from each of the counties in the Eighth district

The Marion County Republican organization headed by Marion Hinklin, county chairman of the Republican executive committee, Calvin Oborn chairman of the combined county Republican organizations and Mrs W N Harder chairman of the Women's County Republican group served as co-hosts and, as the congressman told the audience were responsible in a very great measure for the success of the barbecue

Prepared by Experts

Prof I. E Kunkle, head of the meat division in the school of animal husbandry at Ohio State university, and four assistants prepared the meat for barbecue removed it from the pit and sliced it for serving Saturday afternoon The meat was all boned wrapped in parchment and muslin and placed in a pit 14 feet long, three feet deep and three feet wide in which 2½ tons of hardwood had been burned The meat was placed in the pit on sand which had been sprinkled over the live coals and sheet iron placed over the pit and covered by two feet of dirt at 3 a m Saturday morning The pit was not opened until 4 30 Saturday afternoon

Prof Kunkle has gained a nationwide reputation for his barbecue technique, having been on the Atlantic coast from Maryland to Vermont and as far west as Missouri preparing barbecues He said the largest pit he had ever prepared was 125 feet long, using 15,000 pounds of meat

Newark Man Killed In Explosion of Gas

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, O., Sept. 22—Ernest Shaw, 48, died yesterday of burns suffered in a gas explosion that damaged a double frame dwelling which he was remodeling

His son Duane, 3, was reported in a critical condition at Newark hospital from third-degree burns.

Firemen said Shaw probably lighted a match in the gas-filled cellar of the house, setting off a blast that ripped out the kitchen floor and broke all windows in the building.

FRESH GALES STRIKE FLORIDA

New Storm Nears but Forecasters Say It "Will Not Be Dangerous."

By The Associated Press

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept 22—Winds up to 60 miles per hour—only 15 miles below hurricane strength were predicted today for storm-ravaged southern Florida as a new tropical disturbance moved swiftly across the Gulf of Mexico

The storm center, already lashing the coast with rain-laced, whistling squalls, headed toward the Fort Myers-Tampa bay area where it was expected to move inland tonight It was only half the intensity of the great Atlantic hurricane which tracked destruction across Florida and then roared across the gulf to devastate the rich Gulf coast and New Orleans

The Miami weather bureau said the newest blow was not expected to be dangerous

However, the dismal job of tabulating casualties and property damage continued along the coast of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and extreme northeast Florida Forty-three were known dead, and there was apprehension of extensive flood damage to compound the desolation strewn by the hurricane itself

Delayed reports from Gulfport,

STORM-BORN WINDS WHIP THROUGH OHIO

By The Associated Press

High winds that reached velocities between 50 and 60 miles an hour when they whipped through Ohio last night subsided today but caused at least one death and four injuries

The gales, produced from the impact of the Gulf coast hurricane, struck heaviest in northern Ohio and buffeted Lake Erie into a seething mass of rolling water

John Pentz Jr., about 30, of Parma was killed at Brecksville, near Cleveland, when a falling tree crushed him to death as he climbed into his car

Three brothers were taken to Lorain's St. Joseph's hospital suffering shock after their boat was swamped three miles off Lorain harbor Daniel Cerney, 33, was held for observation but his brothers, Paul, 32, and John, 41, were permitted to go home. The U S. Coast Guard said Paul swam to shore for help Daniel's condition was described as "fair"

Two other lake accidents occurred at Toledo when the barge, Maida. owned by the Pringle Shipping Co., struck a range light crib in Maumee bay The crew of eight was rescued by Coast Guardsmen, who also took Mr and Mrs E C Anstaett of Columbus and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr and Mrs. Joseph C Anstaett of Toledo, from a wind-buffeted sloop that had stalled in Lake Erie.

The Coast Guard said the Toledo winds reached 60 miles an hour, after an afternoon rainstorm that was accompanied by 54 mile an hour gusts.

CINCINNATI, O., Sept 22—Cincinnati estimated its damage at $120,000 today after a buffeting yesterday by the dying strength of the hurricane that lashed southern states last week.

DEATH TOLL TAKEN IN CAR WRECKED NEAR CEMETERY

Three Marion youths are dead and four others seriously injured, two of them critically, following an automobile accident at Claridon, seven miles east of Marion, shortly after 10 p. m. Saturday.

THE DEAD

Dorman Delane Knapp, 18, of 330 Leader street

His brother, Harrold Ray Knapp, 15, of the Leader street address.

Donald L Temple, 17, of 488½ West Center street.

In critical condition today at City hospital are

Duane Herron, 15, of 666½ Wood street and Charles Rentschler, 14, of 561 Wood street

In serious condition are Earl Foster, 15, of 555 Bartram avenue and George Henry McCloskey, 27, of 606 Davids street.

Hospital authorities reported at 2.30 p. m. today that neither Herron nor Rentschler has regained consciousness. None of the accident victims has been interviewed as yet concerning details of the accident by either the sheriff's department or the state highway patrol in view of the seriousness of their injuries

The accident occurred at the eastern edge of Claridon on route 95. The car in which the seven youths were riding failed to make the sharp curve in the vicinity of the Claridon cemetery Leaving the road, the 1941 Ford sedan driven by McCloskey raked the iron fence bordering the cemetery and smashed into a large maple tree Skid marks on the edge of the road and in the ditch by the cemetery fence extended over 150 feet

Wedged Under Cowl

Impact of the crash wedged McCloskey, Temple and the elder Knapp boy riding in the front seat up in under the cowl Temple and the two Knapp boys were dead upon arrival at City hospital

Each of the Knapp boys sustained a fractured skull and internal injuries, as did Temple

The Herron boy sustained fractures of the skull and both ankles, in addition to internal injuries, Dr. F. G. Smith is the attending physician

Young Rentschler suffered fracture of the skull, jaw, left leg and internal injuries. Foster sustained fractures of both legs, left arm and internal injuries Rentschler and Foster are under the care of Dr Jay H. Plymale

The youths were taken to City hospital in the Hughes and Gunder ambulances The Boyd and Umapher ambulance was also at the scene of the crash

The state highway patrol reported that traffic conditions at the time of the accident were normal and that no other car was apparently involved

Long Skid Marks

The McCloskey car, traveling east, left lengthy skid marks extending from the curve off the shoulder of the road, along the ditch up to the tree The iron picket fence bordering the cemetery was bent backward where the careening car had grazed it before crashing head-on into the tree

The accident is being investigated by the city prosecutor, John Watters and the state highway patrol Watters said skidmarks were measured at 195 feet Watters also said a resident of Claridon observed the car traveling through the community at "a high rate of speed"

McCloskey, son of Otis R McCloskey, is an employe of the Universal Cooler company. Police report he was found not guilty of a speeding charge in municipal court in September 1944.

The elder Knapp was employed at the General Electric company plant in Bucyrus, was married and the father of an infant son His brother Ray was a sophomore at Harding High school. Donald Temple was employed as a greens keeper at the Marion Country club golf course.

Double Funeral for Brothers

Dorman Delane Knapp was born July 25, 1929, in Akron, a son of Vernon and Lucy Stewart Knapp, natives of West Virginia. In November, 1945, he married Ilene Malley in Marion. He had lived here 16 years. He was employed at the General Electric Co. plant in Bucyrus.

Besides his parents, he is survived by his wife and a son, Dorman Lee Knapp.

Harold Ray Knapp was born June 2, 1932, in West Virginia, he was a sophomore at Harding High school

Double funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the Boyd and Umapher funeral home on West Columbia street by Rev. D. H. Hochstettler, pastor of First Evangelical United Brethren church. Burial will be in Marion cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Donald LeRoy Temple was born April 8, 1930, in Little Sandusky, a son of Carl L and Minvera A. Fraker Temple, the father a native of Agosta and the mother of Delaware. He was employed at the Marion Country club, where he assisted the greens keeper.

Surviving are his father and stepmother, who live at the West Center street address, his mother, whose home is at 112 Fies avenue, brothers, James Edward Temple of West Center street, and Sgt Robert Eugene Temple of Camp Lee, Va., and a half-brother, Carl LeRoy Temple Jr. at home.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at 1 p. m. in the Merle H. Hughes mortuary on Mt Vernon avenue by Rev. Eldred Johnston, pastor of Central Christian church Burial will be in Forest Glen Memorial park. Friends may call at the funeral home.

TRUCK CRASHES INTO BIG ISLAND BUILDING

A combined gasoline station, grocery store and restaurant on route 30 south at Big Island, owned and operated by Keith Tron and Frank Johnson, was considerably damaged Sunday when a truck, driven by John Darnell, 33, of 212½ Sharp street, completely entered the building, state highway patrolmen reported.

Mr. Darnell, headed east on route 30, lost control of the truck on a curve and struck the building.

A customer in the restaurant at the time, Bernie Littral, 41, of near Marion, suffered a bruised leg when the truck hit the lunch counter and knocked it over. Contents of the building were also damaged considerably.

Mr Darnell, charged with unsafe operation, was fined $15 and costs in municipal court today.

Dollar's Value Rises As Food Prices Dip And Debate Grows

By The Associated Press

The American dollar appeared today to be taking on a more resonant ring at food counters amid a rising chorus of pleas for voluntary rationing or government control of prices and distribution of scarce commodities.

Probably more significant to consumers than recent retail price reductions in such articles as meat and butter were the continued sharp declines in grains and livestock along with less abrupt setbacks in other commodities from their all-time peak of last Tuesday.

Wheat closed out the week with losses of as much as 38 cents a bushel, corn as much as 32 cents, and oats 20 cents. Setbacks in cat-

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

THE old cliche "all agog" was the only one to describe me, I told myself, as I waited in the sitting room of our apartment for the arrival of Dr. Twitchell.

For my coming interview with Noel, I had armed myself with icy sternness beneath a camouflage of sympathetic interest, but Katharine's news, and her parting permission to tell the old physician what I had learned from her, had keyed me up to an expectacy of aid from him which was thrilling me tremendously.

So much depended upon my coming interview with Mary's temperamental husband. The prospect of help from Dr. Twitchell in my problem was like the sudden appearance of a solid rock to some one floundering helplessly in raging waves.

But I tried to be casual when five o'clock brought the physician's knock, and I went to the door to greet him.

"Good afternoon," he said, with his usual slightly pompous courtliness. "How is my patient?"

"Very well indeed," I told him, "and most anxious to see you. But I wonder if I may have five minutes—not more, probably less—of your time before you see her? Katharine said it would be all right, if you approved."

"I approve Mrs. Bickett's decisions automatically," he said, with a twinkle in his eyes.

Expression Changed

Then his expression changed to one of concern, and he looked at me sharply.

"You are troubled about something," he said. "Sit down and tell me about it."

He put me into a chair, and drew one opposite me.

"Now," he said smiling, "take a deep breath and begin."

"I need several," I told him, answering his smile. "First, Katharine said to tell you that she had brought me up to date on her interview with you concerning Mary."

"I expected she would," he said and something comfortable in his tone eased my nerve tension.

"May I tell you how much your decision has relieved my mind?" I asked, and this time he did not smile.

"It ought to relieve everybody's mind," he said. "That was a perfectly preposterous thought. I only hope Mrs. Veritzen will prove tractable."

"I'm sure she will," I said. "In fact, I imagine that she will be secretly relieved at your verdict. She has so much on her mind just now."

"I know," he returned. "The play I'm glad of that. It's the best therapy she can have."

"The play isn't troubling her," I said. "Today, she proved to herself and to me that her memory is all right. It isn't the same poolproof organ that it was a year ago, but she is showing so much improvement that I am certain she will be back in her usual form within the week."

"Why, that is even better than I had hoped," she said. "But what is bothering her then?"

"Her husband's attitude," I told him.

He straightened his body, his face reddened, and he explosively muttered something beneath his breath which I was sure his old-fashioned courtesy would not permit me to hear.

Then he folded his hands across his capacious midriff and looked at me with steady, inquiring eyes.

Madge Begins

"Tell me," he directed tersely, and I began with Mary's joy over her breakfast chat with her husband about possible parenthood; her consequent doubt concerning Noel's remarks, which she feared "made a pattern"; and her own distress over the thought that she ought to sacrifice her stage career if she should become a mother.

Long before I had finished, the old physician had unfolded his hands and was gripping the arms of his chair savagely. And his right foot was tapping a violent tattoo against the rug.

"Is he a heel, a complete idiot, or a temperamental ass?" he exploded, when I had come to a full stop.

"I think your last characterization fits him best," I told him with a relieved laugh, for I was sure now of his aid in my campaign. "But in justice to him, I must tell you that he is madly in love with his wife, and would sacrifice everything for her—"

"Except his own cockeyed ideas, which he, no doubt, is sure are God-given," Dr. Twitchell interrupted.

He took his eyes from mine and looked off into space. Then his gaze came back to me.

"I don't want you to mistake my position on this," he said. "The curse of the country today is that so many mothers are doing everything except train their children in the way they should go. Unless a mother is temperamentally unfitted to care for children, or faces starvation for them unless she goes out to work, the rule should be that she should stay at home and care for them until they are able to face the world themselves.

"But there are exceptions that prove the rule," he went on, "and Mrs. Veritzen is one of them. She can command the best trained care for her children; she has a gift of which she has no right to deprive either them or the world, and—I would not give much for her emotional ability in the future if she gives up her work."

"You mean," I queried, "that she will be a better mother if she keeps on with her work than if she gives it up?"

"What High Cost of Living?" Shamokin, Pa., Wants To Know

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN

United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22—Shamokin, here I come, to get some of those 14½ cents a pound lamb chops, and a 39-cent sirloin steak.

Yes sir, ladies, my tale today is a startler. It began last week when I pounded out a series of items about the high cost of living putting me on an involuntary diet of grass and cold spring water.

From Shamokin, Pa., came a communication from a friend who asked, in all seriousness, what high cost of living? He suggested that I quit fretting about price indexes, special sessions of congress, and frightening statements by federal big-wigs. Forget 'em, he said, and come to the Pennsylvania coal mine country, where a dollar still is worth one buck. And buys a basket full of food.

He enclosed, to prove he wasn't kidding, a grocery advertisement clipped from page 13 of the Shamokin News-Dispatch for Thursday, Sept. 18. I have been drooling ever since.

39-Cent Roasts

In Shamokin, ladies (and you, too, Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson), a chuck roast can be bought for 39 cents a pound, a rib roast for 35, and ground round for 29.

Pigs' feet are six cents a pound in Shamokin and a leg of lamb is 19. Beef hearts, tongues and kidneys go for 29 cents. So do veal chops and veal roasts. Chickens are 39 cents and ducks ditto. Bacon's 49 cents a pound, salami's 29—and likewise, spare-ribs. Five pounds of lard goes for a dollar in Shamokin.

Pork loins, at 59 cents a pound, are the most expensive fresh meat in the store. Picnic hams are 49 cents and meat loaf is 20.

"Seeing is believing," the Shamokin storekeeper advertises. "Visit our store and see the big displays of good meats selling at really sensible prices."

That's not all. For a dollar he'll sell a dozen cans of asparagus soup, or 10 cans of kidney beans; a gallon of molasses, or six pint jars of honey. He'll part with five quarts of pickles for a dollar bill, or 10 large cans of sauer kraut, or nine tall cans of condensed milk.

Butter Is High

About the only really costly food on his shelves is butter, which he sells for 83 cents a pound. For eggs he gets 63 cents a dozen, a far cry from the dollar price so widely predicted.

How these prices can be in Shamokin I don't know. Neither do the agriculture department's experts. I showed 'em the advertisement—and I think they're moving to Shamokin, too. Some of them said such prices could not be—and yet there they were in black and white.

So there's only one thing to do: investigate 'em. Sen. Ralph E. Flanders of Vt., the bring-down-the-cost-of-living man, is holding hearings up and down the coast, listening to frantic housewives and unhappy grocers tell their troubles.

He stops off in Philadelphia soon and it's not far to Shamokin. The gentleman from Vermont certainly should get a good meal in Shamokin at a reasonable price; he might even learn how one grocer earns a profit on 39-cent steaks. From western beef at that.

If the senator will investigate the low cost of living in Shamokin, I'll be there with my typewriter and I can see the headlines now. Not to mention the Shamokin-bound Americans, inching along, bumper to bumper. Thank you, Shamokin, for the best idea this year.

Shamokin Butcher Tells His Formula For Lower Prices

By The United Press

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Sept. 22—Roly-poly Dick Rickert, whose 259 pounds almost overflows his Little Giant market, gave the formula today for his retail prices which the department of agriculture said can't be.

It's a close margin of profit, knowing how to cut meat, selling a lot at low cost and doing most of the work himself.

Long hours, too, he added.

Rickert, 49, said a lot of the savings that he transfers to a steady patronage grow from careful, conservative meat cutting.

"Knowing how to cut meat saves a lot," Rickert said. "I was born in the butcher business and spent all my life at it."

Rickert, who is known as "Brother Dick" to his steady patrons, said most of his one-man price war is an effort to maintain his trade.

"I buy where I get a chance," Dick said, "and when I have it, I advertise to tell the regulars that they can come and get it."

They do, too. There's a steady stream of customers going in and out Dick's little market every day.

Dick's delivery truck, an under-sized bantam make, scuries about Shamokin's streets, always panting and puffing in a hurry: Either Dick is crowded into it—or his one helper is at the wheel. Aside from himself, the only store employe is a boy to wrap packages.

Rickert readily admits that his meats are of economy grade, but says they're wholesome and ample.

He has friends in the packing business who pass along tips when there's a good buy coming up. Then Dick becomes Johnny-on-the-spot, hustles back to his market and is ready to pass along his savings.

The same system helps him in the canned goods department. He buys cases and cases and is ready to offer them at big savings.

Rickert maintains that he had consistently under-sold competitors through the years. Morning comes early for him, and dusk is long past before he finishes his day's work.

He agrees that this prices are not the gauge for all Shamokin retail markets. But he's satisfied that he's doing all right. So are his customers.

HERE ARE THE FACTS ABOUT THE McMILLEN STRIKE

This plant has been strikebound since August 21, 1947.

WHAT THIS STRIKE HAS COST:

85 men out of work for 33 days!
More than $18,000.00 in wages lost!
More than 6,000 tons of feed production lost!

WHAT CAUSED THIS STRIKE!

A new employee who had been with the company only 10 days refused to unload a car, a part of the job for which he was hired. He was told that if he would not do the work, it would be necessary to hire another in his place. He still refused, so he was let out.

The Union Agreement under which the employees of the Company were working provided no bargaining rights for employees who have been with the Company less than 30 days. In spite of this fact and before filing a grievance in accordance with the Union agreement, the spokesman for the union committee ordered all employees to stop work. In the meantime, this new employee changed his mind and agreed to do the work required of him. The Company then put him back to work.

This dispute being settled, the International representative of the Union Committee then demanded:

1. That they be paid for the time they were out on strike.
2. That a new contract be negotiated.

What Is the Company's Stand On These Demands?

1. The Company considers it unfair and unjust to pay men for work which is not performed.
2. The Company refuses to negotiate a new contract because there is in existence a binding contract between the Union and the Company.

In proof that there is a contract, we offer below a reproduction of the signatures on this contract which is in full force and effect until March 13, 1948.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties have hereunto set their hands to duplicates hereof the day and year first above written.

MCMILLEN FEED MILLS INC., (OF OHIO)	INTERNATIONAL UNION UNITED AUTOMOBILE AIRCRAFT, AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENT WORKERS OF AMERICA LOCAL NO. 750 C.I.O.
Wayne S. Zeskel
Roy N. Lovett	Joseph Stafford Chairman
	Clarence Perry Vice Pres.
	Gene Shellhorn Rec. Sec.
	Bernard Baum
	Dwight Buchanan

THE EMPLOYEES HAVE ACCEPTED THE FOLLOWING BENEFITS UNDER THIS CONTRACT FOR THE PAST 5 MONTHS:

a. Cost of living wage adjustment, which at the present time amounts to 25c per hour.
b. Four hours call-in pay.
c. A wage increase bonus for the third shift.
d. Double time for over 11 hours in any one day.
e. Wage increase in job classification.
f. Shift privilege for shop committee.
g. Seniority bid system.
h. Two weeks vacation with pay after two years employment.
i. Paid holidays.

THIS STRIKE CAN BE SETTLED!

Despite the fact that it is foolish to question the existence of this contract, the Company has offered to submit this question to arbitration.

THE UNION HAS REFUSED TO ARBITRATE THE LEGALITY OF THIS CONTRACT!

How Long Will the Public and Responsible Laboring Men and Women in This Community Tolerate This Ridiculous Situation?

EMPLOYEES: Talk this over with your folks and let the company know what you think!

YOUR HEALTH

Chronic Sinus

Chronic infection of the sinuses, which are air chambers in the bones of the face, and connected with the nose, is a common disorder and one which is difficult to deal with.

Matters are even worse if the victim of sinus infection is also allergic, that is, over-sensitive to certain substances which are harmless to the great majority. In these cases, the infection in the sinuses or sinusitis seems to make the allergy a great deal worse. In some instances, it may actually cause allergic disorders to appear which were not present before.

Sinusitis is not a cause of hay fever, which is an allergic condition due, usually, to sensitivity to ragweed pollen, but it may be a factor in influencing the results of treatment. It has been noted that if the sinus condition gets worse during the hay fever condition, it will quite possibly tend to make the hay fever more severe.

Operative treatment of the sinus infection during the hay fever season usually should not be carried out. However, it is possible to wash out the infected sinus with some antiseptic solution, and this often may cause the hay fever symptoms to clear up rapidly. After the hay fever season is over, any surgical treatment necessary may be performed.

A condition related to hay fever is known as vasomotor rhinitis.

In vasomotor rhinitis, there is a nasal discharge, but it usually occurs the year 'round instead of during just the one special season. Patients with this condition may be sensitive to foods, dust or pollen. Sinus infection may be a primary cause of vasomotor rhinitis, or it may just be a factor which tends to make the condition more severe. Benadryl is a helpful drug in treating vasomotor rhinitis.

It is possible that the patient may become sensitive to toxins or poisons formed by the germs in the sinus. Again, in this disorder, during the active stage of the rhinitis medical treatment such as the giving of vaccines and washing of the sinuses may first be carried out. However, in many instances, some surgical treatment of the sinus may also be required.

Another allergic disorder is known as urticaria or hives

Sinus infection may be a cause of urticaria. In most of these instances, operative treatment is also necessary to clear up the sinus infection and bring relief from the allergic disorder.

It would appear important in those with tendencies to allergy such as hives, asthma, eczema, hay fever, and vasomotor rhinitis, that careful study of the sinuses should not be neglected, since sinusitis may be the chief source of their trouble. Proper treatment of the sinus infection may result in the clearing up of the allergy or, at any rate, a real improvement.

BAPTISTS TO MEET IN CITY TWO DAYS

Marion Association Meeting To Open Tuesday.

The thirty-fifth annual meeting of the Marion Baptist assocition will be held at Trinity Baptist church in Marion Tuesday and Wednesday. The theme of the program will be, "Forward With Christ Through Evangelism." Rev. Donald S. Hobbs, pastor of the First Baptist church of Richwood, is moderator of the association and will preside at all the sessions. The morning program will begin at 10 o'clock with a brief worship service conducted by Rev. C. R. Matthews of the Wyandot Baptist church. The annual sermon will be given Tuesday morning by Rev. A. O. Long of the Prospect Baptist church, and the doctrinal sermon will be preached Tuesday afternoon by Rev. Lowell Parrish of the LaRue Baptist church. Rev. J. W. Poorman, director of evangelism of the Ohio Baptist convention, will give an address, "Making Evangelism Our Task."

The program for Tuesday night has been given over to the Baptist Youth Fellowship, and a banquet will be served at 6 o'clock for all the young people of the association at the Fite Memorial church on Davids street. Their evening program at the associational meeting will begin at 8 at Trinity church, with G. Walter Weber of Akron giving the address.

The women's hour will be on Wednesday morning with Rev. R. L. Chapman of Ostrander giving a missionary sermon. During the afternoon, D. Paul Judson Morris, executive secretary of the Ohio Baptist convention who has just returned from the meetings of the Baptist World Alliance in Copenhagen, Denmark, will give an address on "Baptists Around the World." This will be followed with a missionary address by Rev. Morris Blanchard of India.

The women of the Trinity church will serve lunch to the delegates Tuesday and Wednesday.

"Junior Size" Miss Rated Lucky Lady This Coming Season

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU
United Press Fashion Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—Lucky is the lady who can wear a "junior size" this season.

For if she's a clever shopper, she'll find all the style she wants in clothes that fit her small figure and are considerably more fitting to her average pocketbook than those made for the larger-sized woman.

The junior dress creators of New York say they plan their designing for two kinds of "juniors"—the truly young, and the more sophisticated small woman. Although their greater effort appears to be devoted to the teen-ager, the older woman can find garments that don't make her feel ingenue.

There's considerable difference between the little wool dress that goes to college and the little wool dress that's made for cocktail parties. But they both can be size 13.

A shirtwaist and shirt and skirt casualness characterized many of the young juniors shown at a recent show staged by a dozen manufacturers. In contrast, juniors for older women leaned toward more complicated wrapped bodices and draped skirts.

Young suits ran to pleated and circular and otherwise fulled skirts. Older ones had longer jackets as a rule and slimmer skirts.

Some difference was demonstrated in color alone. One swinging plaid coat was made up in a riot of red, yellow and navy for the college miss and in highly grown up wine and gray for an older although not necessarily old, woman.

Youngers were gay in a persimmon corduroy jacket over an all pleated navy wool skirt. Olders were suave in a very tailored black wool dress and jacket with a fawn hood forming a double point down the back.

Prices for all the clothes ranged from $17 to $85 when they first went on the market.

Who's Driving?

SENATOR TAFT'S statement about prices and wages leveling off half as high as they've sailed since 1939 is wishful thinking, and should be so labeled. Neither Senator Taft nor any other front-row politician dares to say what's obviously true—that no one knows when, where, or how the leveling-off is going to occur

Cheap money, borrowed money, hot money, easy money, money saved and money not yet earned is circulating at hurricane velocity. The Truman administration must pretend it is controlling all this, but no one is fooled. It has no more control over the economic hurricane than it has over the hurricane in the south.

The means of control don't exist, and if they did, no government would dare to use them. Quite the contrary, government itself is sucked into the maelstrom and finds itself lifting credit restrictions in a befuddled effort to extend still further the debts of consumers, now standing at 45 billion dollars, five billion more than the peak reached before the "bust" of 1929.

The situation is not like the story about the intoxicated man who went upstairs in a double-decker bus and, confused, didn't realize the operator of the bus was downstairs. When he couldn't see any steering wheel or driver, he lurched back downstairs, collared the conductor and told him the bus had no driver. The fact is the economic bus doesn't either.

Ouch, Ouch, Ouch!

NLRB'S postponement of the "I am not a Communist" deadline to Oct. 31 gives union executives a chance to say something more intelligent than "ouch!" as they try on the Taft-Hartley act for size.

By the end of next month (Sept. 23 was the former deadline) both AFL and CIO will have held their national conventions and reviewed their policies. It may occur to calmer heads that union executives and their lawyer brain-trusters pulled a boner by stirring fresh suspicions of Communist influence in union decisions. It looks more than ever as if the Red minority might be wagging the unions when millions of workers can't be represented before NLRB because a few dozen leaders refuse to swear they don't belong to the Communist party.

Unionists may make NLRB back down on the ruling that the national officers of AFL and CIO must clear their skirts on Communism before member unions can appear before the board. It would be a victory gained at a high price. If union executives had swallowed their misgivings about swearing they weren't Communists, it would be easier for the public to swallow its misgivings on the same score. So much screaming about a simple requirement suggests there must be a great deal of pain somewhere.

"The Little Flower"

THE death of Fiorello H. LaGuardia ends the career of a voluble, picturesque public figure whose greatest service was as mayor of New York City.

The effervescent, photogenic Little Flower was a man of boundless energy, an efficient administrator and a member of more committees than most people ever heard of. He was a World War I pilot, a congressman and a government representative on trips abroad. He had opinions on all subjects and had no hesitancy about expressing them. Sometimes he opened his mouth so far he put his foot in it.

It was as New York's mayor that LaGuardia made his finest record. In his three terms as mayor his administration transformed a run-down, graft-ridden city into a financially-sound, efficiently-run community. He inculcated a sense of civic pride in New Yorkers. He cleaned out time-servers in city jobs and made the city government a model of administrative efficiency.

The New Deal Liberals

HENRY ("THE MORGUE") MORGENTHAU has spilled the beans about the fun-with-money boys who set the pace for New Deal liberalism.

The former treasury secretary's articles in Collier's make it pretty plain that the only liberal thing about them was their eagerness to give away other people's money.

The late Harry ("The Hop") Hopkins was the champion dispenser of the people's wherewithal; Morgenthau fell out with him when he "confused relief with politics." Henry Wallace was quite a dispenser, too. It cost him $130,000,000 once to give away $516,000,000, reports the former secretary of the treasury.

Read and learn. Henry Morgenthau was in a position to know what went on, which appears to have been a lot worse than the relatively mild doubts voiced at the time by persons who saw nothing liberal about dishing out money and were castigated as Tories, horse-and-buggy slow-pokes and other assorted names for daring to wonder what was so all-fired noble about a crowd of johnny-come-latelys raiding the U. S. treasury.

Central Problem in Europe

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Great Britain, Not Germany, Obstacle to Recovery.

THE central post-war problem of Europe is not Germany but Great Britain No matter where one's sentiments may be, the present plight of Great Britain leaves Europe without the economic leadership to which that continent has become accustomed for many centuries. Pro-Britishers in this country complain that those who do not fervently expect Great Britain to emerge more powerful than before simply disregard the fact that two wars have left that country economically flat, that the empire is mostly gone as a supporting bastion and that the future rests upon American cooperation and subsidy which may nor may not come in the particular form Britain desires.

Winston Churchill said:

"The national government, of which I was the head, had won the war. It was for the Socialist government to win the peace And it was for them to make the most of the remaining resources of the nation, to heal the wounds of war, to maintain our position in the world, and to give some measure of happiness and reviving prosperity to the men and women who had fought so well . . ."

Then he added

"Unhappily, these men, called to the august task of setting the country on its feet again, were obsessed and dominated by party faction and class prejudice, and they cared far more for pleasing their own extremists than solving the grim troubles of the aftermath which beset us all. I do not blame them so much for the mistakes they have made, many and grievous though they may be. I blame them for their wrongful choice, in caring more for their party theories and dogma than about the revival of our strength . . ."

Picked Wrong Time

Unfortunately for England, her Socialists picked the wrong time for vast reforms, reorganizations and the remaking of a people The Socialists, for some reason, assumed that the United States would underwrite these experiments no matter what they cost. They are surprised that this country asks for facts and figures, for accounts, for specific data. They entered upon their revolution believing that they would have a blank check on the American treasury.

Churchill had no such illusions. He said of the Socialist schemes:

"I do not believe that any of these methods will aid us in our economic crisis. The arrival of unwilling workers in industries to which they are strangers may well do more harm than good. Efficient arrangements for the steady and selective supply of raw materials would give far more fruitful results in a great many industries and over the whole field. Rarely, if ever in history, have the noble and altruistic qualities to which Mr Attlee appealed been developed in the human race by compulsion On the contrary, it is from resistance to tyranny in all its varied forms that the qualities which dignity and glorify mankind have sprung to life . . ."

Efficiency Destroyed

The pity of it is that the British worker's efficiency has been destroyed. I have some figures given by Mr. P. Lamartine Yates in 1937 comparing the agricultural output of British farmer and farm worker with those of other European countries and it is interesting to note that the Britisher comes out first:

Net agricultural value produced per head: Great Britan £200 Denmark £155, Netherlands £120, Belgium £100, Switzerland £100, France £90 and Germany £70.

George Winder, in the "Nineteenth Century and After," makes the point:

"Under the new agricultural bill the British farmer is to be subjected to discipline and if, in the opinion of certain monitors appointed by the state, he fails to cultivate his farm efficiently, it is to be taken from him, even though it may have been in the possession of his family for a hundred years."

When the Russians took the land from the Kulaks, the world was horrified; yet British Socialism proposes to do the same thing through a county agricultural executive committee which is to be a creature of the minister of agriculture. In a word, the British farmer is to be bureaucratized which means ultimately serfdom. As one studies what the British Socialists are trying to do, it appears that their trend is not toward Communism but toward Fascism—toward Mussolini's type of Fascism. That would indeed be a tragic consequence of this war.

They'll Run Over Plenty of Stop-Lights

A Cleevland taxi company has been granted a permit for helicopter passenger service.

One knew this was the air age, but who thought to see the time you'd have to send a kite to hail a cab?

Tomorrow's small-fry, hearing a strange noise in the sky, will know it isn't Superman because they can hear his meter running.

The cabbies will probably get sort of lonesome at first, with no truck drivers to argue with.

And they'll miss the use of their horns, too, what with only an occasional pigeon to honk at.

But worst of all is the fact that the air-hacks won't have much excuse for taking the longest route between two points.

Still, they'll get a lot of business from romantic couples whose only direction, as they get in, will be "Three times slowly around a cloud."

Building Dazzles Diplomats

By HOWARD DOBSON

WASHINGTON—If foreign diplomats can be intimidated, or even just dazzled by architecture the new State Department building is the one to do the job.

The outside is plain, almost severe, but inside the huge bronze doors, the first thing you see is an expanse of marble about the size of a basketball court Surrounding it are square marble pillars two stories tall.

The building, started in 1940, was intended for the War Department, as you can tell at once. Looming over this acre or so of marble is a mural painting dominated by war planes and resolute looking GIs carrying machine guns and similar implements.

There is a vast reception room outside Secretary Marshall's office, and it is decorated by a mural depicting major battles of the Revolutionary War. It is now covered by a tasteful green drape, but before the drape was hung Marshall had a couple of official callers — Lord Inverchapel, the British ambassador, and the Duke of Windsor.

Press Quarters

Having a natural interest in government accommodations for reporters, I looked up the press room on my first trip to the building. It is tucked away at the end of a labyrinth of onyx-walled corridors. Well, it looked like onyx. Maybe it was just black glass.

In the popular phrase of war veterans, they (the reporters) never had it so good

First, there is a lounge with big leather sofas and deep chairs Off this is a smaller room suitable for a quiet game of whist or some other gentlemanly diversion.

In a long room beyond the lounge, each newspaper and wire service has a well-lighted, sound-proofed stall much like you might find in a stable for horses that win lots of money.

On the wall hangs a portrait of former Secretary Cordell Hull, with a message of welcome from him to the press corps.

Tiptoeing out, my head bending low from memories of the police station press rooms I have frequented, I went to check up on some of the department's current business.

How Things Go

It didn't seem proper for an outsider to kibitz on a real State Department press conference, so I hunted up a man to ask how things are going with that constitutional amendment to limit the terms of future presidents. He said things are going fine. Eighteen states have ratified

On my way back to the office, I walked by the awkward old building the State Department used to occupy, now occupied by other government offices. The place looks comparatively lonesome now, but somebody hasn't given up.

Outside the back entrance, hidden behind some flowers, is a little vegetable garden.

View of Puerto Rico, N. Y.

THE recent plane crash at Melbourne, Fla., in which a planeload of Puerto Ricans cracked up, brings to light a little-known traffic in which some 2,000 Puerto Ricans are flown into New York each week.

New York has a Puerto Rican colony of 600,000. It lives in some of the most squalid slums in the city, even worse than adjacent Harlem's. Nevertheless, Puerto Ricans on their poverty-stricken island hear tales of glamorous New York and almost all who can get together $130 for plane fare ($150 round trip) are flown north in creaking old war surplus planes loaded with twice as many passengers as they normally should carry. Because Puerto Rico is American territory, there are no immigration or quota problems.

Most of the new arrivals, sadly disillusioned, go on relief immediately. There is evidence that one plane operator will haul a passenger from Puerto Rica for $18, taking the rest from his passenger's relief checks.

Passenger traffic back to Puerto Rico is almost equal to that in the opposite direction, but plenty of Puerto Ricans prefer life in New York's rodent-infested slums to what their island had to offer.

A Puerto Rican Cultural Society attempts to maintain a vestige of morale in the New York colony but it is crime-ridden and the disease rate is high. It is an explosive situation which is not improving.

A crowd of 145,000 saw Jack Dempsey fail in his attempt to regain the heavyweight championship when he was defeated on points by Gene Tunney in a 10-round bout at Soldiers' field, Chicago. The much discussed "long count," which enabled Tunney to recover from a knockdown in the seventh round started immediate protests but it was upheld because of Dempsey's failure to retire immediately to a neutral corner.

Lyman D. Doner, 67, died at his home near Richwood.

Total enrollment of the Marion public schools was announced as 5,853, including 854 at Harding High school. St. Mary school enrollment was 442.

A Puzzle for Administration

By STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22—A sort of Chinese puzzle now confronts the administration leadership, Somehow, the puzzle must be solved within the next two months. But no one in Washington has yet managed to fit all the mutually contradictory pieces of the puzzle together.

Here are the pieces of the puzzle:

►As Secretary of State George C. Marshall has said, Europe must have some sort of emergency aid —which means dollars—before the end of this year. The reports from Italy which have been appearing in this space demonstrate clearly why this is so. To quote from one of these reports, unless the dollars are forthcoming in time, we will be faced with "something like the collapse of the whole complex structure which we call Western civilization."

►But where are the dollars to come from? Aside from congress, there are three visible sources. One is the International Bank. But the officers of the bank have repeatedly insisted that the bank was not established to provide stopgap dollars to buy wheat and coal. Another is the Export-Import Bank. But it is certain that William McChesney Martin, now in London, and the other officers of the bank will resist to the last breath any move to use the bank's reserve of dollars to provide stopgap aid. Finally, there is the remnant of the British loan. As previously reported here, serious consideration is being given to using the $400,000,000 remainder of the loan for aid for Italy and France. Yet the final decision will rest with the British. And it will certainly be surprising if the British, themselves gasping for lack of dollars, agree to any such arrangement.

Thus the only sensible course for the American policy makers while searching for some substitute expedient, is to rely on Congress for the dollars which must be forthcoming before the winter sets in.

►Yet congress, according to all reports of the most experienced observers, will return to Washington in a thoroughly "show-me" mood. Even those congressional leaders like Senator Arthur Vandenberg who are most alive to the desperate urgency of the situation, are certain that congress can be persuaded to act only on the basis of overwhelming evidence that any appropriations for Europe will not constitute an "operation rathole."

►But it is clear that this evidence will not be ready on time. The original timetable, which was certainly too optimistic, called for a report from the Paris committee of sixteen nations by Sept. 1. This was to be followed on Sept. 15 by the reports of the three American committees—the Harriman, Nourse and Krug committees—on the American ability to help.

This timetable is now, of course, out the window. According to those who have seen the Paris committee at work, the delegates of the sixteen nations there have been haunted by the ghost of Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov. The mere fact that Molotov has at last been absent has led to kind of Indian summer of traditional diplomacy few of the delegates have been so impolite as to look at the figures of the other delegates with an unpleasantly fishy eye. This hands-off tendency has been further reinforced by Molotov's warnings about national sovereignty. Thus from the beginning the emphasis has been all on getting dollars, and very little on mutual self help and European cooperation.

Paris Report

In response to the outspoken warnings of Under Secretary of State Will Clayton, the Paris committee has now at last come up with a reasonably satisfactory preliminary report. But it is preliminary at best, and it is now very probable that the leading experts of the Paris committee will be invited to fly to Washington, so that something reasonably acceptable can be threshed out here. But all this will take time. And it is now considered an optimistic guess that the Harriamn and other American committees will have reports ready before the first week in November, a full month and a half behind schedule.

Senator Arthur Vandenberg's Foreign Relations Committee and Representatives Charles A. Eaton's Foreign Affairs committee will certainly require several weeks to hold hearings and to sift the evidence of the American and European reports. Then Congress will want to debate at length whatever emerges from Vandenberg's and Eaton's committees. This too will take time. Thus it begins to seem probable almost to the point of certainty that by the time debate is nearing its end, the catastrophe against which the Marshall approach was designed to guard will already have happened. The Soviet sphere of influence will have spread to western Europe.

The conclusion to which all this clearly points is that Congress must somehow be persuaded to buy time to consider the facts on which long-term measures for European recovery can be based, before the facts are fully available. But here the puzzle comes full circle. For the Congressional leadership is convinced that Congress will only act on the basis of overwhelming evidence. That is why the policy makers here are often tempted to succumb to the gloomy conviction that their Chinese puzzle is insoluble. Yet one consolation remains. The American people, often with groaning reluctance, have always acted in the past, often in the nick of time, to save themselves.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Hold Your Breath, Brother Traveler!

THE New York Central has introduced the wonder of wonders, the supposedly unattainable and the answer to the traveler's prayer, a roomy diner with kitchen to match. For the first time in history a dining car kitchen does not have the general aspect of a hectic clambake in a narrow corridor.

And the diner itself is a two-car affair seating sixty-four as against forty persons. It includes a cocktail bar, a lounge and all the gadgets, equipment and decor that make for class in the modern railroad dining room.

One feels so comfortable in it that one is even apt to notice if the food is good, bad or medium. The old yen to swallow anything and get back to the coach is expected to disappear. Which may or may not cause trouble

It is the kitchen that is the eye-opener and the seventh wonder. This is no longer a hot-box with stew pots attached, an alley full of crates, a cross between a crematory, a fire in the gas works and an interlude from Dante's Inferno.

No cook has to be a contortionist and the waiters can get in and out without compulsory collision insurance

No man has ever peeked into a routine railroad kitchen without wondering whether the food was prepared by chefs, midgets, black magic or remote control.

And it has always been a conviction that the waiters were refugees from a circus acrobatic troupe.

You were so surprised that anything edible came out of it at all that you overlooked a lot of things including the queer taste in the creamed potatoes

The new superdooper diner kitchen is twice the orthodox size with charcoal broiler, modern ranges, electric coffee urns, electro-mechanical refrigeration, deep freeze units, electric doors, electric dish washers and automatic temperature control. You can never look into it and get the impression the cooks are dying of tropical fever

The Dining Car of Tomorrow is here, which is okay by us provided it does something about the food of today.

Railroad grub was never entrancing or extra reasonable Now that the two-car diner with cocktail bar is here "how's chances" for the two-egg omelette and the three-bean soup?

OBSERVATIONS

Chance is something big or little, according to your courage.

WHAT we keep telling people who don't like the way they look when their pictures are taken is to do something about it, like the notables. The notables can't afford to have pictures in circulation that make them look like escapees from a booby hatch, so they put their best face forward.

Even the movie stars, as everybody must know by this time, aren't as beautiful as they seem to be. Their cameramen always shoot them from the best angles, and anyone who has seen a movie star get set for a casual photograph knows there's nothing casual about it at all

Some years ago, we discovered our best camera angle. A picture was taken at a banquet. The photographer stood on a chair a short distance from our place at the table. All the other people at the table turned around and leered into the lens, looking pleased.

But we kept our back to the camera and pretended we didn't care, though the real reason was that we were camera-shy. Many people have been made camera-shy just by looking at their own pictures, which is what had happened to us.

Consequently, the only thing that showed was the back of our head and the shoulders of the coat we were wearing. Due to the fact we were leaning forward, the coat was pulled snugly across the shoulders and seemed to fit perfectly. Due to the fact the back of our head wasn't in focus, it also looked pretty good—not egg-shaped.

No one can laugh at that picture and say pityingly, "You really don't take a good picture do you, Boris?" No one can titter and remark, "If I were you I'd sue." It came off better than any experience we've ever had with the camera.

We've had a number of pictures taken of the back of our head since then. It's our best angle. The late John Barrymore had only one photogenic side; we are in the same situation. Of course, it's not an easy thing to explain, but doesn't need to be explained.

When they get ready to take the picture, we simply turn the back of our head. Sometimes all that shows is a blur, and that's all right, too. The blur is where something a lot worse than a blur would have been if the subject hadn't been considerate.

That's what it adds up to—consideration for others. Some people have nothing to contribute to the miracle of photography. Each of us must do the best he can with what he has. Learn to put your best face forward. If there's no choice, turn your head.

WOMEN ELECT STATE HEADS

Officers Chosen at Democratic Group's Closing Convention Session Here.

A Cleveland woman, Miss Marie Ryan, was elected president of the Federated Democratic Women of Ohio at the closing session of the two-day meeting at Hotel Harding Saturday afternoon.

Miss Ryan, who is active in Cleveland Democratic circles, is the retiring financial secretary of the federation. A past treasurer of the Cuyahoga County Democratic Women's club, she served as precinct committeewoman for 15 years, a ward leader and treasurer of the Fourth ward of the Cleveland Democratic club Miss Ryan will serve for two years

More than 400 women from all parts of the state attended the Saturday sessions

Elected with Miss Ryan were Miss Carrie Huffman of Youngstown, first vice president, Mrs Betty Horstman of Dayton, second vice president, Miss Mary Patterson of Columbus, recording secretary, Miss Martha Hosfelt of Ravenna, financial secretary and Mrs. Mary Boyle Burns of Toledo, treasurer.

Vice presidents-at-large elected were Mrs Ulva Durkin of Akron, North East; Mrs Mary Keinath of Ottawa, North West, Mrs. Dorothy Davis of Mansfield, Central: Mrs. Elizabeth Aiken of Zanesville, South East, and Mrs Mary Billingslea of Hamilton, South West.

On Speakers' Program

Speaker for the afternoon program was Miss Genevieve Blatt, Pittsburgh, Pa, attorney whose subject was "Yes, We've Had Enough." Sharing the speaker's program with Miss Blatt were James Albert Smith of Kent, who spoke from the youth viewpoint and Joseph T. Ferguson of Columbus, state auditor. Greetings were extended by Dr C J Altmaier of Marion, Eighth Central District committeeman, Enoch Allen of Ironton, president of the Young Democratic Clubs of Ohio, and William Rhoads of Urbana, director of activities of the Younger Democratic Clubs of America, James Lauer, Marion County Democratic chairman and state and district officers of the federation The welcome was extended by Mrs E. H Morgan, first president of the Marion County Democratic Women's club.

Assails G.O.P. Action

Quoting prices as being more than 90 per cent higher than in 1935-39 Miss Blatt charged the Republican congress with delivering power to real estate lobbies by lifting rent controls, and allowing prices to soar by lifting the OPA, and asked "what of the little people?" She expressed the opinion that the Republicans were surprised at their victory in congress and the senate and added that that is why they had no program. Democrats have failed to get their story over to the people because of Republican control of newspapers and the radio, she stated and expressed the belief that this is realized by other people also.

The leadership and laws passed by the last congress makes for communism and fascism, State Auditor Ferguson said, and added "I challenge the Republicans to nominate Robert Taft." He urged harmony in the Democratic party and the election of national, state and county tickets next year.

Talk on Youth Situation

James Albert Smith told his listeners that youth is thinking and forming opinions about our government, now more than ever before He said they believe that the government should sponsor some sort of health insurance and also that social security is a necessity. Describing as "slap happy" the ideas many young people have regarding marriage he said that investigation shows too many youth come from broken homes Only about half the youth are against communism, he said, and he urged a program of education regarding communism and fascism to counteract this threat to the nation.

"Widdies Club" Meeting Held By Convention Group

An "off the program" event of the two-day convention of the Federated Democratic Women of Ohio was the breakfast meeting of the "Widdies Club" of the federation, held Saturday morning in the coffee shop. The occasion honored the birthday anniversaries of two charter members, Mrs Martha Merriman of Columbus and Mrs Mollie Ketterer of Woodsfield Each received "a diamond ring" and other gifts A birthday cake decorated the table

Costumed in sunbonnets, shawls and other raiment of decades ago, the group gave their club slogan, "We Want a Man"

Organized Sept. 28, 1939 at Columbus, the group holds a breakfast at each convention The members' advice to women is "to look for old men who have money and are not very healthy." There are no dues, and when a member marries they are automatically out of the club and become honorary members. Assessments on leaving the club are $10 charged to the widow who marries a Democrat, $20 if she marries a Republican, and $30 if he has no political affiliation.

Officers of the club are Mrs Lena G. Siferd of Lima, who has held the office since the club was organized and says she "never hears a negative vote" when it comes to her election. Mrs Ketterer of Woodsfield is vice president and Mrs. Helen Truax of Bucyrus is treasurer The only funds the club has is when a member marries and this is used immediately to finance a good time

Only "sod" widows who are of the Democratic political faith are eligible for membership in the club, and the ultimate aim of the club is "matrimony" so the members state

Two honorary members, who became so via the matrimony route, are Mrs Gladys Webb of Columbus and Mrs. Harriet Stuart Traub of Dayton

Europe Details Recovery Plan

16 Nations Pledge Self-Help, Tell U. S. They Will Need $19,330,000,000.

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Sept 22 — Western Europe pledged itself to a program of self-help today and asked the United States to send it $19,330,000,000 under a four-year Marshall plan as a means of averting economic "catastrophe."

This program, the participating 16 nations declared, could enable Europe to make her full contribution to the welfare of the world"

The request was made in a 20-000-word document which will be dispatched to Washington after its signing here today by representatives of the 16 nations which mapped their economic wants in Russian-boycotted conferences held here for 70 days.

"The American people, through their government and their congress, will consider this program and determine whether the means can be found of supplying Europe's needs," the summary said "If nothing is done a catastrophe will develop as stocks become exhausted"

The report outlined a four-point self-help program "aimed at putting Europe on its feet by the end of 1951"

1 A strong production effort by each country.

2 The creation of internal financial stability.

3 Maximum cooperation among the 16 countries

4 A solution of their trading deficit with the American continent, particularly by exports

As part of the production effort, the conference envisaged.

1. Grain production on a prewar basis with increases above the prewar standard in potatoes sugar, oils and fats

2. Coal production above the 1938 level and one-third larger than 1947 tonnage.

3 Electrical generating at 166 per cent, oil refining at 250 per cent and steel at 120 per cent in terms of 1948 production.

4 Inland transport facilities to carry one-fourth more than in 1938

5 Restoration of prewar merchant fleets by 1951

Telephone companies the country over share many problems—one of them is the record number of daily long distance calls now being made. Along with this is the fact that most companies are operating with limited long distance facilities. This naturally slows long distance service sometimes, especially during peak hours. So. if you have a short wait occasionally, it simply means that lines are busy here, or along the route to the city you are calling.

Ex-President Sees Grim ar Ahead but Believes Solution Is Possible.

The Associated Press

YORK, Sept. 22—Herbert said last night that the harvest may yield as at of 1945 and he out- needed "if large areas are to be saved from ation."

or and nurse accom- former president to the Square Garden meeting. tary explained that ad not been feeling well days but was all right meeting in behalf of Ger- et was sponsored by the Friends Service com- Labor League for Human Rights (AFL) and Lutheran World Relief, Inc. A spokesman for the sponsors said Hoover appeared against the advice of his physician.

Sees Grim Year

"Due to the failure of agricultural recovery in Europe and Asia, together with devastating droughts in other parts of the world—including the American corn crop—the next 12 months will be a grim food year," Hoover said.

A "disastrous decrease" of 32,000,000 tons of coarse grains was predicted by Hoover. This, he said, would be partly offset by a 4,000,000 increase in bread grains—wheat and rye.

The situation, Hoover said, calls for these steps.

1. American farmers "must resist the natural tendency" to feed bread grains to animals at a time when coarse grains are scarce. "In this world emergency we must give the preference to human beings," he said.

2. "Unnecessary human consumption and waste of food" must be stopped. Hoover added that such measures, "in order to secure the best results, must be largely voluntary x x x."

3. The world deficit can be met "only if we have full cooperation from the other surplus-producing countries and drastic control of distribution and elimination of black markets in the deficit countries."

4. Price increases which he said could "be very largely ascribed to over-exports of food" have complicated the situation. "The remedies for price increases lie in handling of exports with an eye to keeping prices down, in the stoppage of speculation and hoarding and, above all, in decreasing unnecessary consumption and waste," Hoover said.

"Panic Not Helpful"

"The situation will not be solved by panic or over-hasty action," Hoover said. "All countries in Europe have their harvest which also will supply them for some period. In the United States, even in the most pessimistic view, we have a surplus of human food.

"By proper world organization we ought to be able to prevent disaster as we did in the 1945 harvest year."

REDS CALLED BAR TO PEACE

Lawyers Told Dozen Top Russian Communists Stand in Way of Accord.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Sept. 22—President Carl B. Rix called the 40,000 members of the American Bar association today to rally behind a firm, determined foreign policy which will support democratic governments of the world and proscribe aggression.

Addressing the opening assembly of the association's 70th annual meeting here, the Milwaukee attorney declared that Soviet policy is founded on principles of world revolution by any and all means of aggression.

"A dozen dictators of a revolutionary party of 5,000,000 of a country of 200,000,000," he said, "x x x stand alone with a few weak satellites between all the other nations of the world and peace for a thousand years."

Against this, Rix told the session in Cleveland's public auditorium, the United States interposes a "rapidly developing foreign policy in which the people of this country must participate." Its major aims he said are these:

"First, penetration of the iron curtain, second, support for x x x governments of free men. Third, encouragement of free enterprise. Fourth, prescription of aggression. Fifth, support of the United Nations."

Governor Earl Warren of California was named honorary chairman of the 25-member committee authorized by the board of governors last night.

Woodall Rodgers, Dallas, was appointed chairman and Victory Davis Werner, New York, vice chairman.

Although domestic issues—including a sheaf of proposed resolutions opposing new anti-monopoly laws, offered by the standing committee on commerce—and professional problems occupied most of the 3,000 delegates in today's committee sessions, the impact of events abroad overshadowed the opening hours of the five-day meeting.

Paul V. McNutt, counselor to the state department, acclaimed the Marshall plan as a bulwark against "disaster, chaos and totalitarianism," in a pre-convention address to the Junior Bar association yesterday. The help should be prompt, adequate and having no strings attached, he said.

Unless such help is given, McNutt predicted, "Europe and Asia, too, will fall an easy prey to a totalitarian organization geared for utmost efficiency and utmost ruthlessness."

"The final objectives will be the riches and resources of the United States," he declared.

POLICE REPORT 7 ACCIDENTS

One Driver Involved in Weekend Traffic Mishap Arrested.

Seven minor traffic accidents occurred in Marion over the weekend, and police arrested one driver involved.

Paul B. Tobin, 23, of Chesterville, was arrested at 1:40 a. m. Sunday and charged with reckless operation after the car he was driving struck the rear end of a car driven by Harold A. Rowland, 28, of near Marion.

According to the police report, the Rowland car, stopped for a red light on West Center at Prospect street, was hit from behind by the Tobin car, which was going east on West Center street at a fast speed. The Tobin car, damaged in the front end, was taken to McDaniel's garage.

Two Cars Collide

Cars driven by James F. Riley, 18, of 697 North Main street, and Walter E. Green, 41, of 612 East George street, collided on West Center at State street at 9:10 p. m. Sunday. Riley, going south on State street at Center, had stopped for a red light and just started again when Green, going west on Center, crashed the red light and ran into the Riley car, police said. The brakes on Green's car were defective, they added. Both cars were damaged on the left side.

While Clarence D. Smith, 44, of near Marion, was in church Sunday evening, his car, parked on Bennett street at Waterloo, was struck by a hit-skip driver and damaged in the left rear fender and tail light. The accident was reported at 8:30 p. m.

Cars driven by Donald Barkley, 25, of near Marion, and Bennie Graff, 17, of 379 East Mark street, collided at 2:25 a. m. Sunday on West Center street. The Graff car was double parked when Barkley pulled around it, and started up when Barkley pulled back into the lane of traffic, police said. Both cars were headed east on West Center street. The Barkley car was damaged in the right front fender.

Saturday Accident

A car driven by Lawrence E. Hartley, 17, of 377 Lee street, was involved in a collision with one driven by Ottis W. Britton, 22, of 851 Adams street, at 11:48 Saturday on Silver street. The Hartley car, backing out of a drive beside 517 Silver street, was struck in the rear end by the Britton car, going east on Silver street, police said. The Hartley car was damaged in the rear and the Britton car in the right front fender.

Cars driven by Harper B. Justice, 31, of Richwood, and Paris J. Graybill, 55, of 218 Sharp street, collided at 11:59 a. m. Saturday on North Prospect at the Big Bear store alley. The Justice car, going south on Prospect, ran into the right side of the Graybill car which was coming out of the alley from the Big Bear store to turn south on Prospect, police said. Both cars were slightly damaged.

Main Street Mishap

Cars driven by Leo D. Jackson, 34, of the Scioto Ordinance plant, Marion, and Melvin Leroy Stamp, 34, of near Frederickstown, collided at 11:31 a. m. Saturday on North Main at Mill street. Police said that Jackson reported he had let a passenger out on North Main street at Mill, and collided with the Stamp car when he started up again.

Stamp said he was eastbound on Mill street and saw the other car stopped, and had almost driven around the Jackson car when it started up. The Stamp car's right rear tire was cut, and the hub cap and bumper were damaged.

Cars driven by M. O. Enterling, 62, of Ada, and E. A. Host, address unknown, collided on East Center street at Grand avenue at 6:15 p. m. Saturday. The Enterling car was slowing to a stop for a red light, when the Host car struck it in the rear, police said. Neither car was damaged.

COUNTRY CLUB BEATS BUCYRUS GOLFERS

Marion Country club wound up the season's final inter-club match yesterday, entertaining Bucyrus at home. Eighteen players from each club participating, with Marion winning 33 to 17 to make a clean sweep of the home and home matches for the season.

Scoring was difficult due to the high winds that swept the course. Low scores for Marion were: Herbert Petrich 82, Maurice Cornell, 83, and H. W. Freck, 84. Low for Bucyrus were Jim Gallant, 83, Kenneth Gallant, 84. Edward Glidden, 84, and E. Cox, 85.

During the season, the Marion club won four and lost two inter-club matches, going down to Lima at Shawnee and losing to Mar-O-Del there.

Scoring of the match play was a point for the winner of each nine, and a point for the winner of the 18 holes, a total of three points for winning three ways.

Taft To Make Trip To Washington State

By The Associated Press

LAKE TAHOE, Nev., Sept. 22—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) heads for politically-untested Washington state today after receiving assurances from Republican leaders that he had made some new friends by a weekend spent in Nevada.

Taft, resting here before taking a train for Seattle tonight, was credited by Senator Malone (R-Nev) with having made "a good impression" on Republicans who heard a Saturday night speech in Reno and others who conferred with the Ohioan later.

FLEEING THE FLOOD. STORM

Miss., said beach areas still were blocked off, and residents were warned away because of venemous snakes, apparently washed ashore from outlying islands. Several reptiles were killed measuring from four to six feet in length.

Power trucks were brought from upstate Mississippi to spray beach debris with DDT and lime to control odor and insects. State and municipal authorities conferred Sunday on requirements, and prepared to asked the war assets administration for relief stocks and heavy equipment to clean beaches and highways. Heavy timbers also were sought for bridge repairs.

Meantime, New Orleans and southern Florida were plagued by the after effects of the hurricane which beat a path across the southern part of the peninsula Wednesday, spun out into the Gulf of Mexico Thursday and then headed north to pound the Gulf coast on Friday.

The biggest menace in both cases was floods. Some 40 square miles of Jefferson parish (county) around New Orleans was under water from Lake Pontchartrain, and small boats maintained a steady shuttle service in the inundated area carrying marooned families to safety.

So far some 2,000 families have been ferried to dry ground. Sheriff's Deputy John Williams said the waters in some places were eight to nine feet deep.

$30,000,000 Damages

Florida already has counted its storm damage at $30,000,000—so far. No comparable estimate has yet been made for the Gulf coast area though virtually every house along the beach and most business places from Biloxi to New Orleans have been damaged to some extent. Most of the beach vacation cottages have been crumpled like so many match boxes.

In New Orleans alone, Mayor De Lesseps (Chep) Morrison has counted the loss at $7,000,000 and with the floods in some sections of this city the overall esitmate undoubtedly will climb.

A definite casualty figure for the entire Gulf coast was still in doubt and probably will be for a week. Two Associated Press staff writers in the Mississippi coast area and in New Orleans have reported 28 known dead while the list from Florida shows 10 deaths directly attributable to the storm. Latest to be added to the Florida toll was a Marine corporal, killed when his car crashed into a tree during the hurricane Wednesday night.

Scattered Light Frost Predicted for North Ohio

By International News Service

CLEVELAND, Sept. 22 — The weather bureau today issued its first frost warning of the fall season, which officially begins tomorrow.

In a special forecast, the weather bureau predicted scattered light frost tonight in northern Ohio, with the exception of along the southern shores of Lake Erie.

Near-freezing temperatures were expected to occur from Columbus northward, the weather bureau bulletin said.

FINED FOR SPEEDING

Harold R. Stewart, 23, of near Belleville, was fined $15 and costs in municipal court Monday. Arrested at 10:42 a. m. Saturday on Mt. Vernon avenue, he pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding.

Believe Prospect Girl Abducted

started toward home in the opposite direction.

Residents Since 1940

The Greens live in a large rambling farmhouse. They have been residents of the Prospect community since 1940 when Mr. Green was transferred there by the C. and O. railroad to have charge of the signal system in that area.

Because of the housing shortage in town they took the farm residence. Later Mr. Green was transferred to a Kentucky station for a short time and in November 1945 he was made foreman of a signal crew with headquarters in Walbridge, near Toledo. He has made a practice of returning home each weekend. His area covers trackage from Columbus to Toledo.

Roxie is a sophomore in Prospect High school. Both Mr. Green and Mrs. Green, who is a stepmother to five Green children, said they were positive she did not leave voluntarily. They said her home life was well adjusted and that she had had no trouble with her school work.

At the high school this morning V. L. Anderson, superintendent, said Roxie was a better than average student. Her grades last year were in the 90's and high 80's. Although the school term has just started, Roxie had shown interest in school and class affairs and appeared to be well adjusted in her school work.

Before moving to Prospect the Green family lived in Columbus. Besides Roxie other children in the family are Marilyn, 15, Donald, 14, Jackie, 11, all at home, and Carl Jr. 18, who makes his home with an aunt in Worthington.

Headed Air Patrol

Mr. Green became well known in Marion county during the war years as acting commander of the Marion Civil Air Patrol. He was acting as commander for some time before the air group was disbanded in 1945. He still keeps up with his flying at the Marion airport.

For more than a month this summer Roxie lived in Marion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lott of 277 Orchard street. Mr. Lott and Mr. Green are both C. and O. employes, and Roxie was asked to come here during an illness of Mrs. Lott.

Many Offers of Aid

Scores of friends and neighbors called at the Green home yesterday afternoon to offer help and to inquire whether any word had been received of the missing girl.

Among them were Charles Peterson of route 98 and his 20-month old daughter Carolyn, who was the object of a three-day search about a month ago.

Although not acquainted, with the Greens, Peterson dropped in to offer any help he could give since he knew of the worry and suspence that goes with such an experience.

Carolyn, who spent 80 hours without food or water while lost in a thicket near the Peterson home, showed no ill effects of the ordeal. She ran about playing with other children as though she had no recollection of the experience that brought her near death only a few weeks ago.

Variety of Reports

Several reports from persons who thought they saw Roxie Green in Marion Saturday night have been turned in to police headquarters and the sheriff's office.

The reports have developed nothing tangible and officers say they are apparently without foundation.

All the reports were turned in by persons who said they had seen a girl resembling pictures of the Green girl which appeared in Sunday newspapers.

One reported having seen a girl resembling the pictures on the West Side Saturday night.

Another report led to the erroneous belief that the search had shifted to Marion. This report came to Sheriff Retterer yesterday from a man who telephoned to say that a month ago on a Sunday afternoon he saw a girl at Crystal lake park who resembled the picture of the Green girl. The informant said the girl was with a boy friend and they were driving a model A Ford.

The sheriff checked this with the parents only to learn Roxie had not been away from home on Sunday afternoon recently.

have her view accepted by all other nations."

Issues Warning

McNeil then delivered this blunt warning:

"If the Soviet government considers that in all areas its power must be extended, if it thinks that in describing any international situation its description must be accepted, then I saw without qualification that not only will the United Nations be destroyed but the unstable peace of the world will crumble and crash, bringing to us all the ranging hideous consequences to which Mr. Vishinsky drew our attention."

Referring to Vishinsky's attack on the United States, McNeil said:

"When Mr. Vishinsky argued on Thursday x x x that his government were distressed and angered at the statements of individual Americans that Russia was preparing for war and was a warmonger, I want to say this: The reply is not to imprison any individual or to suppress American or British newspapers.

"The reply is to open the doors of Russia so that the nations, the people of those nations, who have great underlying sympathy with this new emerging power, can see what is going on."

Pilotless Plane Makes Trans-Atlantic Flight

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22—The United States Air Force announced that a four-engined C-54 Sky Master plane today completed the first trans-Atlantic flight in history without a pilot at the controls.

The transport took off from Stephensville, Newfoundland, at 5 p. m. yeterday and 10 hours and 15 minutes later landed at Brise Norton, 40 miles west of London.

The compltely automatic flight was computed at 2,400 miles. It was an experiment by the air force.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

ANTI-RUSSIAN CARTOONS

Editor of The Star: I am quite concerned with the lengthy series of anti-Russian cartoons you are running on the editorial page of your paper.

I cannot understand what you hope to achieve by it in terms of international understanding and good will. Of course I believe in justice and I believe that the Russian government deserves stern condemnation for many of its practices, but I don't believe that such an extremely biased presentation will serve that purpose. What it will do is to steadily increase anti-Russian prejudice in the minds of the American people until they reach the place where they will be unable to believe that there is any good or even possibilities for good in Russia. I don't know about political ethics, but the ethics of Jesus Christ can never justify classifying any group of people as "people of Satan"; in other words, as hopelessly evil.

We are living in critical times. All sorts of rumors of suspicion, jealousy and rivalry between nations are running rampant. Such times call for an emphasis on intelligence, understanding and mutual helpfulness. My faith is that Russia would respond happily to such an approach. "But," you ask, "suppose she would not? Suppose she would simply interpret it as a sign of blindness and weakness on our part?" That's an interesting question with only one answer that I know of, and that's the answer given by our Lord to Peter: "What is that to thee? Follow thou me."—(John 21:23).

Radio Moscow Pours Out Propaganda Against U. S.

By The United Press

LONDON, Sept. 22—Radio Moscow poured out a flood of propaganda against the United States and its newspapers today, and the Soviet army's newspaper in Berlin advised Americans to reflect upon what Russia did to the Nazis.

The Russian radio tirade, which began yesterday, was pegged generally upon the United Nations general assembly meeting and especially upon American reaction to Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky's speech against the United States Thursday.

American newspapers, Radio Moscow said, quoting a Tass agency dispatch, were "resorting to vulgar abuse and personal attacks on members of the Soviet delegation, impudently disregarding the rules of elementary decency."

Prosecution Resumes Yacht Murder Trial

By The Associated Press

SANTA ANA, Calif., Sept. 22—Prosecutor Eugene Williams today resumed calling rebuttal witnesses to the stand in the Overell yacht murder trial as the state attempted to discount defense testimony offered on behalf of Louise Overell, 18, and her 21-year-old fiance, George (Bud) Gollum, 21.

Louise and her boy friend are charged with murdering her wealthy, socialite parents. Prosecutor Williams claims that Mr. and Mrs. Overell were bludgeoned to death before the explosion. Defense attorneys contend Louise's mother and father were killed by the explosion of dynamite aboard the cruiser May 1, and that the daughter and Gollum had nothing to do with the tragedy.

tee Mr. Truman created more than a year ago to see what this country could do to keep others from going hungry.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson and secretary of Commerce Harriman are the other two members.

Marshall wants more food for Europe fast, and more coal. Anderson favors trimming down American food exports. He says a reduction would help combat high domestic prices by easing the demand on the food supply.

Anderson and many others inside and outside the government have called for voluntary campaign to eat less at home, both to counter high prices and to make food available for shipment overseas.

3 Calls Answered By City Firemen

City firemen answered two calls in the city over the weekend from which no damage resulted, and Chief Owen Sifritt made an investigation this morning of a fire which occurred sometime Sunday.

Sunday at 1:35 a. m., firemen from the West Center street station were called to the Rieser Grocery and Meat Market at 265 Uncapher avenue. Neighbors had seen flashes through the window and thought it to be a fire. However, the flashes were found to be caused by a faulty tube in the fluorescent lighting.

Saturday at 5:34 p. m., firemen from the central station responded to a call at the home of C. C. Brown of 480 King avenue where sparks from a cigar or a discarded match had set fire to the floor mat of the car.

The fire Sunday occurred sometime between 1:30 and 9 p. m. at the home of George Ginn of 299 North State street. The family had been away from home during that time and discovered the fire, which had apparently burned itself out, upon their return last night. The cause of the fire was found to be an extension cord attached to the bed lamp which had shorted. The fire burned the curtains and shades, scorched the wallpaper and the chest of drawers. Loss was estimated at $75.

45,000 Pay Respects To Ex-Mayor LaGuardia

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—An estimated 45,000 New Yorkers filed through the Cathedral of St. John the Divine yesterday to pay their respects at the bier of their former mayor, Fiorello H. LaGuardia, who died Saturday morning at his Bronx home. He was 64.

LaGuardia, mayor for 12 years, will be buried late today in Woodlawn cemetery after Bishop Charles K. Gilbert of the New York diocese conducts the Episcopal service for the dead.

Although no eulogy was included in the funeral plans, tribute was paid to the colorful little public figure in radio programs and in the more than 1,000 messages of condolence received by his family. Many were from statesmen overseas, from countries which LaGuardia had aided while director general of the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration.

CUBS, MUNCIE SET FOR PLAYOFF OPENER HERE TONIGHT

Springfield-Zanesville Battle Billed on Loop Leaders' Field

By DON C. BURTON

After three years in the second division the Marion Cubs of 1947 pulled up to second place in the Ohio State league and for the first time will enter the Shaughnessy playoffs.

The Cubs, by virtue of finishing in the runnerup spot behind the Zanesville Dodgers, will start the series here tonight with the third place Muncie Packers furnishing the opposition.

The series will continue with the Packers here again tomorrow night and then move to Muncie for three games. After the three-day play in Muncie the two teams will come back to Marion Saturday night and Sunday if neither team has won four games by that time.

Zanesville vs. Springfield

First place Zanesville club will tangle with Springfield in a seven game series starting tonight and operating on a two at Zanesville, three at Springfield and two at Zanesville basis until one of the clubs has won four games.

The winners of the two series will then play another four out of seven set to determine the league playoff champions.

The final series will find the opening games being played in the city with the highest finish in the final standings. Should Zanesville win, the set would open in Dodger town. Should Springfield emerge victorious in the seven game set the final would start in the city winning the Marion-Muncie series.

Long Climb Upward

It took the Marion organization a long time to whip up a team to get into the final playoffs. Their first year in the Ohio State league, which was organized in 1944, Marion wound up a bad last with Springfield winning the pennant and Newark, who had led the loop most of the season but lost the lead in the closing days, taking the playoffs. The third and fourth place teams that year were Lima and Middletown.

In 1945 Marion moved to fifth in a six team loop and Middletown ran away with the flag race, but lost the playoffs to Zanesville. The Dodgers finished second that year after Clay Bryant took over the leadership and it was Clay's second playoff victory as he had piloted the Newark team in 1944.

In 1946 Marion moved a notch higher in the final standings but finished sixth in an eight team circuit. Last year Springfield again won the pennant but lost to the Dodgers in the playoffs, as Bryant took this third straight playoff title.

Can Bryant Do It?

Whether Bryant, who had three times been a bridesmaid but never a bride in the pennant race, but had won all the championship playoffs can break tradition is problematical. During the last month the Muncie Packers and the Springfield Giants have been playing at a terrific clip. Muncie jumped from last place in July to third in the final standings. Springfield has been a heavy winner the last three weeks.

By virtue of finishing first in the regular race, the Zanesville Dodgers will split 30 per cent of the players pool which is made up of one cent taken from each admission ticket over the league during the season. The Marion Cubs as second placers will divide 15 per cent of the pool. Ten per cent will go to Muncie and five per cent to the Springfield players.

The other 40 per cent will be divided by winner and runner-up in the playoffs. The champions will split 25 per cent and the runnerup will divide the other 15 per cent.

Frank M. Colley, league president has assigned umpires as follows: Chambers, Staley and Hart will work the Marion-Muncie series and McGowan, Heinlein and Monroe will work at Zanesville and Springfield.

DODGERS STILL NEED WIN OR CARD LOSS TO CLINCH PENNANT

Shotton Seeks Pitcher Able To Go Distance for Long-Delayed Finisher.

By The Associated Press

Burt Shotton, pilot of a Brooklyn Dodger team still striving to get in, pondered pitching problems today.

Shotton can't find a starter to pitch that pennant "clincher."

But for the fourth straight day, a New York Yankee hurler went the route when Floyd (Bill) Bevins scattered three hits in pitching a 6-0 Sunday victory over the Athletics in Philadelphia. Bevens, who hadn't been counted upon very much by Harris, thus served notice that he was out to win a World Series starting assignment.

The Brooks, who say a starting pitcher fail to go the route for the fourth day in a row, failed for the third straight time to sew up the flag. They still need one more victory or a defeat by the St. Louis Cardinals to get in the series. The Brooks have six games to play and the Cards, who meet the Chicago Cubs in a day-night doubleheader in St. Louis today, have nine.

Ralph Branca, the Dodgers' 21-game winner, was the latest to get the gong. The Boston Braves finished him off in seven innings and went on to shut out Brooklyn, 4-0, at Ebbets' field. Warren Spahn limited the Dodgers to six hits as he joined teammate Johnny Sain with 20 victories for the season. Spahn is the first Braves southpaw to win 20 games since Irving Young won that many in 1905.

Larry Jansen, rookie righthander of the New York Giants, joined Spahn, Sain, Branca and Ewell Blackwell of Cincinnati in the 20-victory class when he pitched the Giants to a 6-4 triumph over the Philadelphia Phils at the Polo Grounds. The win gave the Giants a split in their doubleheader as the Phils won the opener, 3-2, in 11 innings.

Rookie second baseman Bobby Rhawn slammed his first round tripper in the second game to enable the Giants to establish a National league record by hitting homers in 18 consecutive games. They held the old one of 16 straight games. The Yankees hold the major league record of 25.

Cincinnati and Pittsburgh split a twin bill, the Reds winning the opener, 3-1, and the Pirates taking the nightcap, 11-7. The second game was halted because of darkness at the end of eight innings. Ewell Blackwell notched his 22nd win, a five-hit performance, in the first.

Rae Scarborough, who had lost eight games in a row, pitched the Washington Senators to a 3-0 victory over the Red Sox in Boston.

Cubs Win Year's Last Tilt After Losing Two Saturday

Special to The Star

SPRINGFIELD, Sept. 22—The Marion Cubs and Springfield Giants concluded their 1947 Ohio State league baseball seasons here Sunday afternoon with the Cubs taking a wild 12-10 decision from the Giants. A scheduled night game was cancelled because of rain.

Marion, by virtue of its triumph, snapped a six-game Springfield winning streak, three of them at the expense of the Cubs.

The lead changed hands four times in the finale, with Marion copping the tilt with a five-run splurge in the top of the ninth. The Giants, who twice rallied in late stages to win Saturday night's twin bill, fell short with their one marker in the bottom of the final stanza.

In the Marion ninth, Smith and Rasmussen were both safe on error, Smith scoring as Cingolani and Brozovich collided in the outfield while chasing Rasmussen's drive.

After Maxhimer walked, Shy entered the game replacing Byham. Burbrink greeted Shy with a single scoring Rasmussen and then the Marion skipper pulled a delayed steal, forcing Shy to balk, Burbrink taking second and Maxhimer scoring.

Crago popped a fly back of first but Vonderhaar dropped the ball and Burbrink scored, Crago moving to second. Shuford belted a single to center and Crago tallied the Cubs' final marker.

Saturday night the Giants whipped Marion 5-2 and 7-6.

Smitty Plans Tourney For Softball Teams

Harold Smith, sponsor of Smitty's softball teams, has announced plans for a tournament at his park starting Monday, Sept. 29.

He is offering 50 per cent of the entry fees, which will be $10 a team, to the tournament winner. The second place team will get 30 per cent and the third place squad 20 per cent.

Teams interested should contact Smith. Player limit is 15, and the deadline for entering is Sept. 27. Drawings will be held at 9:30 p. m. at Smitty's grill on that date.

One Killed, Two Injured In Bowling Green Crash

By The Associated Press

BOWLING GREEN, O., Sept. 22—Coroner H. W. Mannhardt gave a verdict of accidental death in connection with a traffic accident that killed one man and injured two others near here Saturday.

Larry Goldrick, 35, of Erieside, O., chief engineer of the Erickson Steel Co., Cleveland, was killed when the car in which he was riding collided with a truck-trailer. Injured were Russell Palmer, 52, Columbia Station, O., and Stanley Benjamin, 36, of Willoughby.

$150,000 CATTLE SHIPMENT

BUCYRUS—One of the largest shipments of cattle ever to be unloaded in Bucyrus was a 21 car special train which left Wichita, Kansas, Thursday, arriving here late Friday. The load was consigned to Pfleiderer and McNutt, cattle dealers. The load was valued at $150,000 and included 518 head of feeder cattle all carrying the "J.A." brand, regarded as one of the most famous of the middle west.

Fall Fatal to Former Resident of Marion

Mrs. Clifford McCoy of 638 Windsor street, her sons and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Howard McCoy of the Smeltzer road and Mr. and Mrs. Russell McCoy of the Canaan pike, were called to Manataw Beach, Mich., over the weekend because of the death of Mrs. Clifford McCoy's nephew, Jeff L. Renner, a former resident of Marion.

He died in Mercy hospital in Jackson, Mich., Saturday of injuries suffered in a fall a week before at his home. He suffered a dislocated back. Mr. Renner also made his home part of each year in Toledo.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford McCoy are planning to go to Toledo for the funeral Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. It will be held in the Abley funeral home with burial in Ottawa Hills Memorial Park in Toledo.

UN Delegates Agree U. S. Prices Top World

By The United Press

UNITED NATIONS HALL, FLUSHING, N. Y., Sept. 22—Prices in the United States are higher today than anywhere else in the world—United Nations delegates who disagree on everything else agreed today on that.

No east-west split developed on the opinion about the high price of butter. Poland and Australia fight like cats and dogs in committee meetings but they raised their voices in harmony to say that butter at home was cheaper than here.

The delegate from Lebanon, Dr. Charles Malik, claimed that prices in his home country had been for many years the highest of anywhere in the world.

"But now," Dr. Malik said, "prices are cheaper in Lebanon than in the United States. Things are more expensive in the United States than anywhere else."

PITTSBURGH PROS WIN

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 22 — The Pittsburgh Steelers opened the National football league season yesterday with a 17-10 decision over the Detroit Lions.

Schlairet, Forest Lawn Teams To Meet at Crystal Lake Park

Tonight marks the opening of the 1947 Little World Series, annual double elimination tournament to decide the best squad of the city softball leagues.

The opening game of the tournament will start after a preliminary between Epworth and Tong Implement at 7:15 p. m.

Schlairet Transfer, city title winner for the past two years, will meet Forest Lawn. Schlairet is representing the Commercial league and Forest Lawn the Sunday School loop.

Had Hard Battle

Both of these squads had to get to the Little World the hard way. Forest Lawn finished the first round in the Church loop in fourth place, but the second round was a different story.

They tied for the round championship with St Mary No. 1 and beat the Irish in a playoff game.

Another playoff was ahead and once again the east end Presbyterians came through, downing Trinity, first round winner, in straight heats.

In Second Place

Schlairet was in second place at the end of the first round and went through the second undefeated. A mixup concerning the use of an illegal player against Moose, winner of the first round, in a second round game, caused the victory to be thrown out and the teams had to play again to decide the second round, Schlairet winning once more. Then in the playoffs Schlairet took two straight.

Commercial Steel, the Industrial league champ, had a relatively easy time, with the exception of a few close games, in going to the series. They were undefeated in both the first and second rounds. Commercial will lay low, to take on the winner of tonight's game tomorrow night.

Cleveland Browns Remain Only Unbeaten 11 in Loop

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 — Cleveland's defending champion Browns remained the only unbeaten team in the All-America football conference today after chalking up their third win yesterday by shutting out the Baltimore Colts, 28-0, while the New York Yankees topped the '49ers, 21-16, at San Francisco to pull even with Buffalo in the Eastern division with three triumphs in four starts.

It was the first defeat in four games for San Francisco and left the '49ers in second place on the Western side of the league.

FRESH BLOOD A MUST FOR FREE ENERGY

Do you feel like you are tied to a drag everytime you try to do something? If so, don't let a low blood count hold you down when you may release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places Millions of bottles sold Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Standardized Road Signs Ordered Throughout Ohio

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS. O., Sept 22—Ohio mayors and other local officials had notice today from State Highway Director Murray D. Shaffer that all new or replaced road signs must follow the "Ohio manual of traffic control devices for streets and highways."

Calling attention to a jumbled system of road markers caused by scarcity of materials during the war, the highway director wrote local officials that "confusion often begets accidents"

From now on, he said, improvised signs would not be permitted.

MEETING HELD BY TOWNSHIP OFFICIALS

Supper Program Is Given at Gathering in Morral.

The third quarterly meeting of the Marion County Township Trustees and Clerks association was held Friday night at the Morral school. A supper was served at 7.30 by the ladies of the W.S.C.S. class of the Methodist church to approximately 100 officials and wives. The meeting was sponsored by Bowling Green, Montgomery, Grand, Salt Rock and Big Island townships.

Cletus Uhl of Big Island township was in charge of entertainment and he presented a program including a whistling solo by Miss Carol Harrimon accompanied by Mrs. Mae Weston, vocal solos by Betty Ann Uhl accompanied by Mrs. Weston, and several humorous readings by Dr. Walter McClaskey.

President Elmer Williams of Grand Prairie presided at the business session during which a contribution was voted to help publicize the proposed amendment to the state constitution, to be voted on this fall, which would prohibit diversion of gasoline tax revenue for any purpose other than the maintenance of roads

County Representative Kenneth Robinson, principal speaker gave a resume of bills considered in the last session of the state legislature. Eight hundred bills were presented, of which 245 were passed

State Association President Joe R. Thomas of Hayesville spoke in favor of the gasoline tax amendment. He reminded the officials that a few years ago the individual farmers bore 70 per cent of the cost of all farm to market roads, all of which is now supported by fuel revenue, and that it is imperative that these funds be protected to the fullest extent.

Probate Judge Edward Ruzzo was introduced and he recounted some of his difficulties in taking over the office to which he was recently appointed and expressed his appreciation for being selected for this position of trust

The next meeting will be in December at the call of Walter W. Johnson, county engineer

Red World Revolution Program Called Bar To U. S.-Russ Accord

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

We shall be wise not to overlook French Foreign Minister Bidault's declaration before the UN assembly that his delegation "deems it futile and dangerous to conceal the magnitude and seriousness of the crisis" growing out of the Russo-American clash, which is threatening the "very life" of the peace organization, and that it's only honest to say one doesn't see now the opposing views can be reconciled

DewittMackenzie

And why can't they be reconciled? Having given us something to ponder, M. Bidault sidestepped that issue — a delicate matter for discussion by the foreign minister of a country which is precariously situated in the no-man's land between the two dominant powers However, we can fill in the gaps which he skipped. The real key to the situation is a fact upon which this columnist has been insisting because of its supreme importance, and it is this:

Russia's generation-old program of world revolution for the establishment of totalitarian communism finally is in full swing Not for one moment should we forget that, for the insidious ramifications of the great offensive have penetrated every country on the globe Its greatest success has been in eastern Europe where a big new red empire has been built out of weak countries by strong arm methods in a short time, but already it has a grip on other war-torn nations like Italy

Can't Be Reconciled

This world revolution can't be reconciled with any other views It can be stopped only if and when it comes up against an immovable barrier. Sweet words of wisdom won't turn the trick Neither will harsh language

What sort of barrier is needed? Does it mean war? Well, it could mean that, but it strikes me there are other possible ways of halting the Red tide One encouraging point is that Russia doesn't want war—isn't prepared for war and can't be for many years to come. Naturally she could fight a strong defensive war, but not one of major aggression.

That being the case, the most effective barrier would be rehabilitation of European democracies so that they could defend themselves against communist aggression, instead of being shot like sitting birds. And that, of course, is the significance of the Marshall plan, although Moscow charges that the program is imperialistic and calculated to give America control of Europe.

Speed Is Question

The big question is whether the rehabilitation plan can work fast enough to save an all but desperate situation. Most of Europe is struggling in the economic morass. Yet countries like Britain and France are so hard hit that they are unable to bolster their smaller neighbors. That's why so much dependence is being placed on America.

Such a condition of weakness provides the best possible field for the operations of Communism. A prime example is Italy w so hard hit that she is f for her life. Into that s communism is throwing ounce of strength in the fomenting strikes and d make the position of the r center government untenab Reds, led by Russian train ian Communist Palmiro T are even talking revolution ly.

If rehabilitation can't achieved in time to form fective barrier against agg communism, then the Red overrun the rest of Europe would create a new and menace to the Orient and the Western Hemisphere.

No Substitute For Personal Service . . .

If there is one thing about the funerals we arrange that causes more favorable comment than anything else, it is the personal services acccorded to every funeral.

There can be no substitute for personal service in work such as this. That is why both Mr. and Mrs. Hughes devote so much time to each funeral entrusted to our care. And that same spirit of service is evident in every member of our staff.

That kind of service costs no more than any other, but it has brought much satisfaction to the families we have served.

3 Auto Accidents Listed Near Marion

Three traffic accidents occurring near Marion Saturday in which only one person was seriously injured were reported by the state highway patrolmen.

Cars driven by Edward A. Host of Galion and Joseph S. Stafford of 579 Oak street collided at 9:50 p. m. Saturday on route 30 south, about 8 miles east of Caledonia. Mrs. Alice Stafford, wife of Mr. Stafford and a passenger in that car, suffered face lacerations. She was treated by a family physician. Other passengers in the Stafford car, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Oller of 184 East Fairground street, were uninjured. Only slight damage to both cars resulted.

A collision between cars driven by Bert Arnold Chaney of route 1, Ashley, and Merle Lee Landon of Prospect occurred at 10:45 p. m. Saturday on state highway 229 in Ashley. No one was injured.

Mrs. Mary K. Dickin, wife of Arthur H. Dickin of route 2 Caledonia, suffered a dislocated left collar bone and a fractured rib when the car in which she was riding collided with another car owned and operated by Christian A. Zintler of route 1, Edison, at 4:10 p. m. Saturday about one mile west of Edison on state highway 95. The Dickin car was driven by Mr. Dickin. Mrs. Dickin was treated at the office of a Mt. Gilead physician. Harold Betts of Cardington was a passenger in the Zintler car. Considerable damage resulted to both cars.

BOWLING RESULTS

Roy Snyder, tenpin artist for the Marion Power Shovel company, burned up the alleys at Palace Recreation Thursday night with a high three game total of 667 off 247, 187, and 233 single games.

Bill Wies, rolling for Crystal Bar in the same Classic league, marked up the evening's high single game score, a 267. Wies also cracked 600, scoring a 628 series total.

J. Fields, only other over-600 bowler, scored 616 for Spot Restaurant, on the strength of a second-high single game of 264.

Single games over 200 were the order of the day for 12 other Classic bowlers. Hinklin turned in a 236, Campbell, 215, Hanovich, 215 and 215, Greenland, 213, R. Haas, 201, McFarland, 210, M. Snyder, 210, Snell, 202, Peters, 217, Cheney, 203 and 204, Barber, 214, and Shoemaker, 202.

In the Huber league, also bowling at the Palace, high men's single game and high three game total were copped by W. Poorman, with a 529 and a 203. H. Engerhoff took both honors for the women with a 453 and a 171. Other games over 150 scored by women were Cook, 151 and 158, Ruth, 153, and Engerhoff, 171 and 151.

Edward LeRoy Hall, 67, died in his home at 581 North State street, at 7:30 p. m. Saturday after an illness of a year.

Born March 16, 1880, in Wyandot county, he was a son of Benjamin F. and Mary Elizabeth Brewer Hall, the father a native of Ohio, and the mother of New York. July 16, 1902, he married Gladys Maude Cook in Upper Sandusky. A resident of Marion 33 years, he came here from Upper Sandusky and worked as a plumber.

Surviving are his widow, children, Mrs. Charles Belcher of 175 Pearl street, Mrs. Darrell DeLong of Attica, N. Y., Dan E. Hall of 792 Woodrow avenue, and Mrs. James E. Thomas of 393 Girard avenue, two granddaughters and a brother, Arland Hall of Upper Sandusky.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at 3 p. m. in the Merle H. Hughes mortuary on Mt. Vernon avenue. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Colombia is the only South American country which has both Atlantic and Pacific coasts.
